Please share your comment with the LRPC.	No. The civic association is strongly against it and these special GLUP processes are designed to overturn low-density residential zoning. The county's push to allow 12-story+ multifamily buildings to be built in single-family/low-density neighborhoods across Arlington is not appropriate and impacts infrastructure, public services such as schools, fire, EMS, police, county services, and destroys this low-density residential neighborhood which is designated by 2 sector plans for preservation.

Please share your comment with the LRPC.	This is not an appropriate sight for such a huge building and for so many people and cars. There are plenty of empty apartments with better locations. Many of the new apartments rent thru air b & b.
